ANCIENT CULINARY TRADITION

Nourishing broth – nature's ultimate comfort food.

Bone broth has been an important culinary tradition of cultures around the globe for thousands of years. Our ancestors consumed bone broths as soups, sauces and stews, and also as medicinal tonics.

REAL BONE BROTH ≠ COMMERCIAL STOCK

REAL bone broth should not be confused with today's commercially available stocks & broths. Our pure, traditional bone broth is made by roasting, then slow-simmering bones for days. We then freeze our broth to lock in freshness and ensure the highest quality product, without the added ingredients or processing to make it shelf-stable. Our Bone Brews are naturally rich in essential amino acids & proteins like collagen, glycine, proline and glutamine that support pets' health in numerous ways.

WHY BONE BROTH FOR PETS?

"All disease begins in the gut..." Hippocrates

Most of dogs' and cats' immune systems reside in their intestines, where food is absorbed & enters the bloodstream as nutrients. This is also where disease-causing organisms reside. Without a healthy absorption of nutrients, a pet's immune system cannot function optimally. Allergies, joint pain, food sensitivities & irritated bowels often start in the gut as a result of imbalance and a lack of gut-friendly nutrients.

REAL gelatin-rich bone broth helps protect and heal the lining of the digestive tract and provides essential nutrients for a happy, healthy tummy.

Bone broth is a staple of a gut-healthy diet.
